

Admission Procedure in Master's degree

Master's Degree in Microsystems and Microtechniques

Spéciality 1: Mechanics, Materials and Microsystems

Spéciality 2: Mechatronics and Microtechniques

Candidates for admission in Master's degree must have Bachelor's degree or equivalent, from an institution of higher education.

Also those students who are in their last term/semester of their Bachelor's studies can apply. Their application file should be enclosed with a provisional document – authorised by their home university – indicating their situation of a student soon to graduate. The final diploma and transcript should be sent as soon as it is available and the latest by the 20th of July.

When applying for graduate studies at ENSMM, you should bear in mind that your Bachelor's degree should be in the same field of study that you apply for or closely related to it.
